

José Luis Rocés is an Industrial Engineering, graduate from University of Buenos Aires (1969), Postgraduate in Management Science at Oxford Center for Management Sciences, Templeton College, UK (1981). Full Member of the National Academy of Engineering (Argentina)(2018). Director of the Education Institute (2020).

Throughout his career in management business companies for more than 35 years, he served in many positions such as Director of Human Resources for Argentina Grupo Santander; Director of Human & Staff Relations, Manager of Industrial Engineering and Assistant Manager of Manufacturing in the Tube Division (Tenaris) of Organización Techint; and General Manager of Masis SA.

He was Full Professor of Organization and System's Dynamics at the Faculty of Engineering of UBA, UADE and ITBA; Professor in Business Schools IDEA and University of San Andrés; currently professor of Management and Leadership at Graduate School of ITBA.

From 2002-2012 he was the Provost of the Instituto Tecnológico de Buenos Aires (ITBA), from April 2014 –March 2020 he was the Rector (Executive President) of ITBA. He has taught courses, conferences, seminars and training workshops in Latin America, USA and Europe about productivity, education, management and leadership. He is national and international academic jury in his specialty, in educational institutions.